

The Boston Globe

TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 2014

Names

CINDY M. LOO

MARILYN HUMPHRIES

Left: Chris Cooper kisses the hand of Marina Shelton as (from left) champion windsurfer Josh Angulo, AccesSportAmerica founder Ross Lilley, Mariellen Burns, Susan Wornick, and Cooper's wife, Marianne Leonè, look on at AccesSportAmerica's fund-raiser at the Royal Sonesta Hotel. Right: Joanne Jaxtimer and Boston Police officer Javier Pagan at PFLAG's Pride and Passion Gala in the Seaport World Trade Center.

Raising money, awareness, and smiles at a pair of events

Oscar winner Chris Cooper, who'll play Spidey villain Norman Osborn in the upcoming "Amazing Spider-Man 2," was joined by his wife, author Marianne Leone, at AccesSportAmerica's annual fund-raiser over the weekend. (The couple's son Jesse was an athlete with the organization, which helps children and adults with disabilities using sports and training.) One of the evening's auction items was a chance to walk the red carpet at the New York premiere of "Spider-Man" later this month. . . . Boston

Police Department officer Javier Pagan, the BPD's liaison to the LGBT community, and BNY Mellon's Joanne Jaxtimer were among the guests and honorees at PFLAG's Pride and Passion Gala at the Seaport World Trade Center. Attended by over 500 people, the event celebrated the life of the late Joan Parker and included a taped message from past honoree and current US Ambassador to Denmark Rufus Gifford, son of former Bank of America CEO Chad Gifford.

Left: Chris Cooper kisses the hand of Marina Shelton as (from left) champion windsurfer Josh Angulo, AccesSportAmerica founder Ross Lilley, Mariellen Burns, Susan Wornick, and Cooper's wife, Marianne Leonè, look on at AccesSportAmerica's fund-raiser at the Royal Sonesta Hotel. Right: Joanne Jaxtimer and Boston Police officer Javier Pagan at PFLAG's Pride and Passion Gala in the Seaport World Trade Center.