

THE SUN CHRONICLE

June 5, 2016

Stephanos hosts AccesSport Auction Gala

Foxboro resident and Channel 5 anchor, Maria Stephanos, was the host and auctioneer at the annual AccesSport Auction Gala at the Sonesta in Cambridge.

Reidy was only two weeks into his college career in Burlington, Vt., when he was hit by a car and had life-threatening injuries. His parents bring him from his home in Maine to AccesSportAmerica in Boston several times a week to work with them and use the group's gait trainer. Reidy was honored along with Barros, Bob Sweeney of the Boston Bruins Foundation, and pole vaulter Saxer. (Submitted photo)

Maria Stephanos greets the night's honoree, Joe Reidy, an AccesSport Athlete who is from Maine.

Pictured, from left, are: Ross Lilley, founder and executive Director of AccesSportAmerica; Mariellen Burns, the evening's co-host and auctioneer; Mary Saxer, Olympic hopeful pole vaulter; Maria Stephanos; former Boston Celtic Dana Barros; Joe Reidy, an AccesSport Athlete and the night's honoree, who is from Maine.